

A: The problem is that you are creating a new column instead of updating the value from "ONECHANBARAZ2CHAOSADLCBUNDLECRACKDOWNLOADSKIDROW" to "onechanbaraZ2ChaosAllDLCBundlecrackdownloadskidrow" every loop. Hence each loop you only have one row and will end up only calculating and storing one row's worth of data. Remove the line: for loop. = Counter + 1 Then you should have something like this: s = df['COUNTER'].unique().to_list() for loop in s: df['S ' + str(loop)] = "" Now the problem is solved. This is the reason that an initial opinion must be written at the outset of an attorney's participation in a case. The opinion is written so that a party will know what the attorney will and will not do and so that the attorney will know what his employer's wishes are. The opinion is not filed with the court. It is written only for the lawyer's eyes, the eyes of the client and the eyes of the attorney's superior. 28 So far as the written evidence shows, this case was handled by a succession of attorneys on the same counsel's staff. The opinion of the second or third counsel, if he had such an opinion, was undoubtedly the same as that of the first counsel. And, in all probability, the employer's wishes were communicated to the second or third counsel as they were to the first counsel, who, nevertheless, was authorized to proceed on behalf of his employer. This is not, however, the customary practice in the United States. The custom is for the client's wishes to be communicated to the attorney in the first instance, as the opinion of the attorney must be communicated to the employer. And the custom is for the opinion of the attorney to be communicated to his employer in the first instance. The policy of the law is not to allow the use of an unauthorized attorney as a sword by the attorney himself to profit from his own folly. 29 Thus, to permit the employment of more than one attorney to handle the case if both are attorneys of the particular attorney's choice would be to fasten upon the client a burden so onerous and s
